some of our most disenfranchised and disengaged students restorative literacies are not just about growing readers and writers per se they are about creating a community of care that involves students teachers administrators and families so that all students experience racially culturally linguistically and economically responsive instruction in multiple forms of literacies drawing on the author's rich experiences cultivating a love of reading among her students and studying the practices of other educators restorative literacies advances a provocative set of examples about centering the voice and stories of people in our quest to humanize and reimagine how we care for about and with others book features presents a literacy model of restorative justice that includes participation from teachers principals administrators and parents contains engaging narratives from elementary and secondary schools to illustrate concepts and strategies explores compassionate listening as a conscious process of assuring that all involved are fully heard a skill that requires removing assumptions judgement and bias identifies practices that take a positive view of learners as opposed to referring students to special education uses restoration as an alternative to pushout practices that are designed to control students and often prevent them from reaching their capacity restorative literacies offers a refreshing perspective on the power of story in cultivating emancipatory restorative and transformative contexts of learning teaching and development during these times of civil and civic unrest this is the book we need in education from the foreword by h richard milner iv cornelius vanderbilt chair of education vanderbilt university what are the root causes of intolerance this book addresses that question by developing a universal theory of what determines intolerance of difference in general which includes racism political intolerance moral intolerance and punitiveness it demonstrates that all these seemingly disparate attitudes are principally caused by just two factors individuals innate psychological predispositions to intolerance authoritarianism interacting with changing conditions of societal threat the threatening conditions particularly resonant in the present political climate that exacerbate authoritarian attitudes include most critically great dissension in public opinion and general loss of confidence in political leaders using purpose built experimental manipulations cross national survey data and in depth personal interviews with extreme authoritarians and libertarians the book shows that this simple model provides the most complete account of political conflict across the ostensibly distinct domains of race and immigration civil liberties morality crime and punishment and of when and why those battles will be most heated what explains the rise of populist movements across the west and their affinity towards russia ukip s brexit victory trump s triumph and the successive elections and referendums in europe were united by a repudiation of the liberal international order these new political forces envision the struggle to reproduce and advance western civilisation to be fought along a patriotism cosmopolitanism or nationalism globalism battlefield in which russia becomes a partner rather than an adversary armed with neomodernism and geoeconomics russia has inadvertently taken on a central role in the decay of western civilisation this book explores the cooperation and competition between western and russian civilisation and the rise of anti establishment political forces both contesting the international liberal order and expressing the desire for closer relations with russia diesen proposes that western civilisation has reached a critical juncture as modern society gesellschaft has overwhelmed and exhausted the traditional community gemeinschaft and shows the causes for the decay of western civilisation and the subsequent impact on cooperation and conflict with russia the author also considers whether russia s international conservatism is authentic and can negate the west s decadence or if it is merely a shrewd strategy by a rival civilisation also in decay this volume will be of interest to scholars of international relations political science security studies international political economy and russian studies russian conservatism is making a forceful return after a century of experimenting with socialism and liberalism conservatism is about managing change by ensuring that modernization evolves organically by building on the past conservatism has a natural attraction for russia as its thousand year long history is largely characterized by revolutionary change the destructive process of uprooting the past to give way to modernity navigating towards gradual and organic modernization has been a key struggle ever since the mongols invaded in the early 13th century and decoupled russia from europe and the arteries of international trade russian history has consisted of avoiding revolutions that are either caused by falling behind on modernization or making great leaps forward that disrupts socio economic and political traditions russian conservatives are now tasked with harmonizing the conservative ideas of the 19th century with the revolutionary changes that shaped russia in the 20th century the rise of asia now provides new opportunities as it enables russia to overcome its fixation on the west and develop a unique russian path towards modernization that harmonizes its eurasian geography and history
